

Is there anything sexier than a pregnant woman? I can think of a few: a lanced boil, a vaginal blood fart, an abscessed tooth, and the smell of dead bodies. And those are just a few.

Even the word "pregnant" is repulsive, as are its slang-fried cousins such as "preggers," "pregs," and "preggo." The idea that a stray gob of jism swam upstream, pierced an egg, and is now being pumped full of blood while swelling into a humanoid monster is a sad, sickening thought to any sentient being.

The notion that a woman becomes more beautiful when pregnant is likewise the product of a dark, diseased mind. A woman "with child" does not become more of a woman—rather, she ceases to be a woman at all and reverts to a biologically expedient bitch-cow. Lofty constructs such as "womanhood" and even "humanity" instantly wither upon the moment of conception, turning the most delicate feminine specimens into bloated, floppy-jugged sow-beasts. A woman's higher cognitive functions shut down, and she becomes just another fleshy link in the food chain, no better than an insect.

Of course, these are my opinions, although I staunchly assert that there is scant difference between my opinions and incontrovertible universal fact. What another man might call my opinions, I call reality.

And yet, some men—the crazy hamsters—are aroused by the dank, puffy-nipped radiance of a knocked-up woman. Some might suggest that such males are well-adjusted, woman-loving, life-embracing, modern-living metrosexuals who know that only a sicko would be nauseated by hanging bellies, apish boobs, and the act of shoving one's cock up a hole containing their unborn child.

Luckily for such men, there exist literally thousands... maybe hundreds... at least a couple dozen... porn websites catering to their curious jones for naked gestating hussies. The ever-helpful Penisbot.com, an online clearinghouse for oddball porn sites, lists 174 "Pregnant" links. The discriminating pro-preg porn patron can choose from such titles as Preggo Whores ("A bun in her oven and a cock up her ass"), Lactating Lisa ("Hot pregnant redhead that is hornier than ever"), Horny Pregnants ("Real amateur pregnant... looking for cocks"), and Pregnant Lesbian Gynecology ("Pregnant lesbian gets licked and sucked right at gyno clinic!") ...and find links to free pictures which promise such delights as "Pregnant Babe Sucking Big Cock," "Pregnant Slut Searches For Her Cunt," "Nasty Preggy Spreads On A Couch," and "Pregnant Woman Posing As Clown."

Most unsettling is an undercurrent of lustful paeans to late-stage pregnancy, evidenced in sites titled Nine Months Pregnant and Ready to Drop, as well as nauseating ad blurbs promising "knocked up sluts ready to burst" and "tons of expecting beauties ready to...fuck till their water breaks."

The photos on these sites are indistinguishable from regular porn pictorials, meaning that the naked models wear high heels here, too. The main differences are the hideously bloated nipples, the deep ravines of stretch marks, and the fact that each gal looks as if she's swallowed a basketball.
